Occupational Health and Safety Management for Mariners on Canadian Vessels on the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River (creator – Desai Shan).

Keywords: Long-distance commuting, mobile work, FIFO, oil work, work camp, social reproductive labor, productive labor, work-family relations

Details: 25 interviews were conducted with managers, active seafarers and key informants from government and maritime support organizations between July 2017 and April 2018. Four face-to-face interviews were conducted in the University of Ottawa meeting room and the offices of the interviewees. Another 21 interviews were conducted by telephone and Skype, at times and places that were convenient for participants to share their experiences, views and opinions. When permitted by the interviewees, the interviews were audio recorded. When recording was not permitted, notes were taken by the first author. The average length of the interviews was 99 minutes. Seventeen interviewees had current or previous sailing experience on the Great Lakes and St Lawrence River including some with shipping management in this area.

Format: Audio recordings of interviews, and transcripts. Mp3, wav and MS word.

Location: Memorial University of Newfoundland, St. John's, NL.

Accessibility/Restrictions: Data restricted for use by the research team.

From working tourists to permanent residents: experiences of youth migrant workers with International Experience Canada (creators Delphine Nakache and Mylène Coderre-Proulx)

Keywords: International Mobility Program (IMP), International Experience Canada (IEC), Working Holiday, youth migration, permanent residence, temporary foreign workers.

Details: Between July 2017 and August 2018, online surveys with 36 IEC participants originating from various countries and working in different jurisdictions in Canada. Questions asked in this survey related to participants' socio-demographic characteristics, level of satisfaction with their work experience/social life in Canada, and future plans. Online surveys were complemented with 10 semi-structured interviews (in English and French) with IEC participants living in Montreal (Quebec). Participants were selected through the online surveys and social media networks: 7 participants were from France, 1 from Chile, 1 from Poland and 1 from the United States. These interviews aimed at documenting their daily life experiences in Canada, their motivations in applying for IEC, and their perspectives on permanent residence. Interviewees were also invited to suggest policy changes to improve their experience of the program. Additionally, we conducted 1 Skype interview with a representative from Pvtistes.net, a website whose objective is to assist Francophone IEC participants in their immigration process in Canada and abroad.

Format: Audio recordings and transcripts and NVivo.

Location: University of Ottawa, Ottawa, Ontario

Accessibility/Restrictions: Data restricted for use by the research team.

Changes in Commodity Prices

- Based on PriceWaterhouseCooper reports on the mining sector.
- Stored in individual reports in pdf format.
- Contains information on revenues, expenses, assets, liabilities, expenditures for BC and some data provided by region in BC.
- Data collected for 2011-2012.
- *Please note: we stopped tracking issues in the mining sector due to a decline in commodity prices that resulted in the closures or temporary winding down of operations. As such, we moved to explore opportunities with other industry partners (i.e. BC Hydro's Site C Project).

Media Stories Tracking Mining Projects and Mobile Labour

- Stories collected and stored in pdf format.
- Stories collected for 2012-2013.
- *Please note: we stopped tracking issues with specific mining projects due to a decline in commodity prices that resulted in the closures or temporary winding down of operations. As such, we moved to explore opportunities with other industry partners (i.e. BC Hydro's Site C Project) and communities (i.e. from Mackenzie / Williams Lake to Fort St. John).

Format:

Interview Data: All interviews were recorded and then transcribed into notes that were shared with participants to review and provide any necessary edits. Once content analysis was conducted, the processed data and themes were placed in word files to provide the foundation for reports. Recorded interviews are in mp3 file format. Transcribed notes are in Word format.

Secondary Data: Employment at BC Hydro's Site C Clean Energy Project is raw secondary data in excel. Up-to-date statistics are available on-line at: <https://www.sitecproject.com/news-and-information/monthly-employment-statistics> Changes in commodity prices: Based on PriceWaterhouseCooper reports on the mining sector stored in individual reports in pdf format. Media stories tracking mining projects and mobile labour were collected and stored in pdf format.

Ontario Field Component

Labor Force Survey (LFS) (2011-2016) and Population Census (2016) (creator Statistics Canada for Waad Khogali Ali)

Keywords: Employment and unemployment; Hours of work and work arrangements; Industries; Labor; Occupations; Unionization and industrial relations; Wages, salaries and other earnings

Details: The surveys were accessed from 2015- 2019.

The LFS provides estimates of employment and unemployment across Canada's landscape whilst the Census provides an enumeration of Canada's population based on demographic and socioeconomic characteristics. Both surveys are cross-sectional in design and disaggregated across multiple spatial scales including; national, provincial, CMA, CA and urban-rural.

Since the surveys were accessed within Statistics Canada Research Data Center (RDC), no ethics clearance was needed. Researchers, however, had to abide by Statistics Canada's confidentiality requirements.

Format: Microdata census data file (not analyzed or manipulated) SAS format. Survey guides: Guide to the Labour Force Survey- <https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/en/catalogue/71-543-G> and Guide to the Census of Population- <https://www12.statcan.gc.ca/census-recensement/2016/ref/98-304/index-eng.cfm>

Quebec Field Component

On the Move Interview Archive and Stories Matter Dataset (creator Stephen High)

Keywords: Employment mobility, gentrification, commuting, family.

Details: The dataset includes all of the life history interviews (38) conducted by the Quebec component. The interviews are being prepared for donation to the archives of the Centre for Oral History and Digital Storytelling. This will be completed by the end of March 2020; and the interviews will be publicly accessible soon thereafter. Longer term, it looks likely that this archive will be preserved at the Concordia Library, Special Collections. There is also the Stories Matter dataset prepared by the Quebec component. Currently this is in the possession of Steven High but will also be transferred to COHDS and the Library for long term preservation and access.

Format: The data includes life story interviews that range from 1 hour to 5 hours duration. Most of the interviews have been transcribed and databased as well. Wav format.

Location: Center for Oral History and Digital Storytelling (COHDS) Archives, Concordia University.

Accessibility/Restrictions: Data restricted for use by the research team.

Contact for further information on the dataset: Steven High, Concordia University, Montreal, Quebec. steven.high@concordia.ca

Prince Edward Island Field Component

ERGM in the PEI Trucking Industry- Qualitative Interview Data (creator Natasha Hanson)

Keywords: Qualitative; Semi-structured interviews; truckers; employer representatives; key industry informants; trucking industry

Details: Data were collected 2013 to 2014. Consists of 30 semi-structured interviews (20 interviews of individual truck drivers, 8 employers of drivers or company representatives, as well as 2 key informants).

Format: MP3, Word Document, Nvivo Project File

Location: University of Prince Edward Island, Charlottetown, PEI.

Oil Transshipment Sector Research (George Gmelch and Diane Royal)

Keywords: oil and gas, mobility

Details: Transcripts and audio recordings from 33 oral history interviews (2014-2019). The subjects are mostly men working on offshore oil rigs, tankers, and shuttles. Several wives of these workers were also interviewed, and two women who work on board ships related to oil exploration and transshipment. The interviews range from 60 to 120 minutes. The anonymized transcripts have been shared with several other members of the On the Move Partnership, and are still available to others.

Video interviews for a documentary film and five digital stories of mobile workers. None of these transcripts have been coded, anonymized or organized. But eventually they will be, and can be made available at that time.

Format: MS word.

Location of Data: With the researchers

Accessibility/Restrictions: Data restricted to use by the research team.

Contact for further information on the dataset: Gmelch, Department of sociology/anthropology, University of San Francisco, 2130 Fulton St., San Francisco, CA, 94117. Email: gmelchg@union.edu

Work, Mobility, Family: Issues Facing Unions and their Members on the Move (creator Elise Thorburn)

Keywords: unions, mobile workers, families

Details: The survey and interviews look at issues unions face in dealing with their members' "mobility." Mobility and "mobile work/workers" mean the long journeys to work of one hour or more per way some workers make each day, as well as workers who must be mobile for work, as in those who work at multiple work sites in a given day (like homecare workers, temp agency workers, or appliance repair workers, for example). "Mobile work/workers" might also mean those with a mobile workplace (as with delivery people, truck drivers, etc.).

Format: 11 responses to anonymous survey and 14 interviews.

Location: With researcher.

Accessibility/Restrictions: Data restricted for use by the research team.
