What might the engaged university of the future be like?

- What might affect its engagement models?
- What is the 'pull' on universities engaging in society? (What does society want from their universities?)
- How can we build on existing practice within and outside of HE to strengthen partnerships and effect change?
- What can we do to ensure that universities remain relevant and engaged with society?

Imagine...

- There has been an increasing trend for universities to embrace engagement over the last 15 years – if that trend continues, where might it take us?
- What is your vision of what an engaged university could be like in the future?
- What are the consequences for
 - Community organisations
 - Publics
 - HE staff
 - Students
- Could it happen? How?
